Purpose

The Mary Bayramian Internship Program provides an opportunity for students, who are interested in the business of operating a performing arts center, to have experiential learning through an internship at the Younes and Soraya Center for the Performing Arts at California State University, Northridge.

Hands-on work experiences create a foundation for students that will help them throughout their careers and enhance the success of our performing arts facilities on campus. This internship program includes participation in stage management, contract administration, event design, promotions, guest services, arts education, fundraising, and marketing.

Timeline

Scholarship

Mary Bayramian Internships are unpaid. However, all interns are eligible to apply for an $8,000 Mary Bayramian Arts Scholarship or Fellowship that will be applicable to the upcoming semesters ($4,000 per semester). If the internship duration is limited to one semester, interns are eligible to apply for a $4,000 scholarship for that semester. Applications will be judged according to set criteria for such scholarships or fellowships.

Qualifying students must:

- Be a full-time CSUN student with a minimum 3.0 GPA
- Submit a completed application form (see page 2)
- Submit a current resume with at least two references and their contact information
- Submit a brief statement of support from a faculty member or supervisor
- Compose a thoughtful, well-written 500-word essay (typed, double-spaced and carefully proofed for grammatical and spelling errors) in response to the following questions:
  - What are you interested in learning at a performing arts center?
  - What skill set would you bring to an internship at the Valley Performing Arts Center?
