Saturday, October 29 at 8pm

(Los Angeles, CA) October 3, 2016 - Valley Performing Arts Center presents Ragamala Dance Company, the renowned Indian ensemble, led by mother/daughter, Ranee Ramaswamy and Aparna Ramaswamy on Saturday, October 29 at 8pm for the West Coast premiere of Written in Water.

The entire performance, audience and performers alike, will be held on the VPAC Great Hall stage; the capacity is strictly limited to 250.

Alastair Macaulay said in The New York Times, “Ragamala showed how Indian forms can provide some of the most transcendent experiences that dance has to offer ... this is an excellent company.”

Ranee and Aparna are protégés of the legendary dancer and choreographer Alarmé Valli, known as one of India’s greatest living masters. Their company work explores the dynamic tension between the ancestral and the contemporary. As choreographers and performers, Ranee and Aparna create dance landscapes that dwell in opposition — secular and spiritual life, inner and outer worlds, human and natural concerns, rhythm and stillness — to find the transcendence that lies in between. As mother and daughter, each brings her generational experience to the work — the rich traditions, deep philosophical roots, and ancestral wisdom of India meeting and merging with their hybridic perspectives as Indian-American artists.

Written in Water features a commissioned score from Amir ElSaffar, known for his distinctive alchemy of contemporary jazz trumpet and Iraqi Maqam. His score will be interwoven with original Carnatic (South Indian) compositions by India-based composer Prema Ramamurthy. The musical ensemble will feature second-generation American artists known for drawing on their training with great masters in India and the Middle East to forge new musical forms. (Instrumentation: vocals, trumpet, santur, violin, and mridangam)

“This mother and daughter duo has one foot firmly planted in the greatest traditions of Indian Classical dance, and the other foot delicately balanced in the future, with imaginative new combinations of movement, music, and storytelling,” said Thor Steingraber, Executive Director of VPAC. “This brand new piece, Written in Water, will have experienced up close, with the audience sitting on VPAC’s stage.”

Steingraber continued, “On April 19, 2017, VPAC will present an entirely different side of Indian dance – with Taj Express: The Bollywood Musical Revue which captures the vibrant, expressive spirit of the world of Bollywood movies with a fusion of film, dance, and music -- a live cinematic journey through modern Indian culture and society.”

About Written in Water

Written in Water is Ranee and Aparna Ramaswamy’s ongoing investigation of Paramapadam (the 2nd century Indian board game upon which Snakes and Ladders is based), the 12th century Sufi text The Conference of the Birds, and the philosophical and spiritual underpinnings of both. The game board serves as a physical and metaphorical framework for a world of psychological complexity, in which dancers and musicians move freely between composition and improvisation. The performance will unfold upon a large-scale projection of a Paramapadam game board on the stage floor—an original design commissioned from Chennai, India-based artist Keshav V. On this metaphysical map, the seekers/dancers activate the space by negotiating snakes and ladders—which represent the heights of ecstasy and depths of longing—as they journey through the seven valleys (or states of being) central to The Conference of the Birds.

Single tickets, $43, are available now. This will be a general admission event on the VPAC Great Hall Stage.
